Summary

No one knows your business as well as you do—but creating internal training content can be challenging and costly. That’s why we’ve developed TrainingPersonalized Packages—an innovative new approach to designing trade compliance training that allows you to leverage your compliance policies & procedures, documents, and valuable legacy training by integrating them into our engaging, continually updated training library.

Training is curated to include only the elements and training scenarios that are relevant for your different learner roles to hit the training sweet spot—avoiding the common pitfalls of overtraining or undertraining your employees.

An expert consultant from CE’s Trade Advisory Services Consulting Team will kickstart the process with a 1-day virtual training session for your key export compliance staff. You will benefit from the decades of experience of professionals such as Candace Goforth or Debi Davis to help you identify existing assets for integration and advise on curation of training modules with maximum impact for your learners.

The Result is a unique training solution that:

- Is personalized to your company’s specific compliance requirements
- Engages your learners with training relevant to their job function
- Integrates your specific compliance instructions, statements of work, and messaging
- Includes the personal guidance of recognized and respected experts in the field of export compliance

The Options—Scalable and Tailored to Your Business

Candace Goforth

Debi Davis

During the workshop, we will:

- Facilitate a discussion with your trade compliance personnel, leadership, and other key compliance stakeholders to identify the risks associated with your company's export operations, location, and products.
- Identify your organization's policies, procedures, standards of work, legacy training, and other compliance assets that address these risks.
- Introduce you to our personalization worksheet to help you identify, document, and frame company-specific policies, documents, guidance, and resources, then embed them directly into each training configuration to tailor training to specific job functions, product lines, locations, etc.

3. Personalize with Your Policies and Procedures

A dedicated customer success manager will help you personalize your recommended training configurations using our proprietary CEAuthor and CECurator tools.

Curation

Quickly and seamlessly add, delete, or rearrange the topics in each training configuration to include only the elements that are relevant for your different learner roles.

Add Company-Specific Content

Your customer success manager will use our proprietary rapid development tool, the CEAuthor, to embed your company-specific resources in these formats into your training configurations:

- Text Copy and Notes
- Hyperlinks
- JPG and PNG Images
- MP4 Videos
- PDFs
- Word, PowerPoint, and Excel Documents and Spreadsheets

4. Deploy Your Training

- Utilize CE's state-of-the-art learning platform or deploy via SCORM-compliant package on your internal LMS.
- Track the progress of your learners and generate reporting and documentation for your trade compliance training efforts.
- Update and extend your training as your organization's size or needs change or as new regulation requirements necessitate.
